

My name is Nina Carroll. I am a Sr. Flight Attendant for a commercial airline carrier. And, times I would see the usage of a cell phone(ie.,Breach of security, emergencies,delays,etc.),but, to have more than one cell by a customer to be admitted is clearly a violation of others space,service,and peace of mind..... There are other ramifications I am sure I have not mentioned and consequences that are pending without thorough consideration. This is another issue that has been addressed as to allowing the public to say and do without hesitating on our issues as flight attendants.Where are the boundaries?? And, what are we actually saying as an industry????Where's the rationale????
